*The Energy Recovery Facility

Non-recyclable materials from your refuse bin are taken to the Energy Recovery Facility (ERF) at Portsmouth where they are burned cleanly to generate electricity. This goes back into the National Grid and is sufficient to power over 53,000 homes. Much of the bottom ash from the incinerator is used for road building.

Fulfilling Your Legal Requirements

Businesses are required to ensure that the waste they produce is stored, managed and disposed of in accordance with legislation.

Section 34 of the Environmental Protection Act seeks to ensure that commercial businesses store and dispose of their waste responsibly (Duty of Care).

Essentially you must ensure that:

- the waste on your premises is stored in appropriate containers
- waste is transferred to a waste carrier or operator who is properly authorised or licensed to handle and dispose of the type and quantity of waste involved
- you have a Waste Transfer Note (Duty of Care)

Businesses are not permitted to dispose of trade waste in household waste containers or at household waste recycling centres.
